

The loons have returned to Upper Saranac Lake, which means only one thing: Spring in the Adirondacks! With sunny days, blue skies, boating season and spring flowers, our team is now prepared for your visit to our Gilded Age Estate.

Forest to Fork: A Culinary Journey

Each spring, Chef Loïc and his team roam neighboring hillsides in search of crisp ramps, Indian cucumber-root, and plump fiddleheads to incorporate into their finely crafted daily menus. For those willing to take a short hike with the Chef through the woodlands in search of lunch, we invite you to join in during the abundance of this special Adirondack growing season. This spring, we are pleased to offer our new Foraging Program! Give us a call to set up your uniquely styled experience.

If you would prefer a more urbane outing, the Saranac Lake Farmers Market is another fond tradition at the start of spring and summer. Guests can join Chef and his team on their Saturday morning visits, sampling cheeses from Asgaard Farm and tasting the depth of Adirondack maple syrup as you wander through local vendor booths, discovering what makes our region so special.

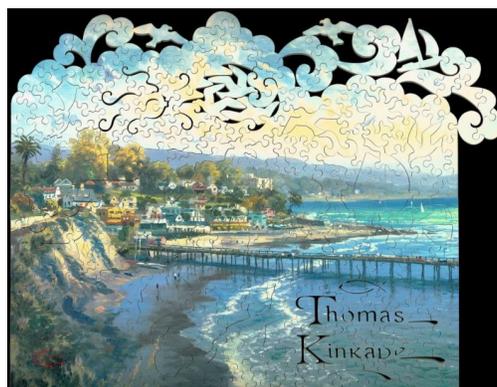

Gourmet Fest

The Point culinary team recently participated in the prestigious Gourmet Fest 2019 in charming Carmel-by-the-Sea, California. Comprised of celebrity chefs and vintners, the culinary weekend provided an opportunity for Chef Loïc and his team to showcase their many talents for enthusiastic attendees.

With the last vestiges of ice finally gone from Upper Saranac Lake, the boats are back in the water marking the start of our warm weather recreation season!

This year we are excited to feature three new fishing boats, a new ski boat, and of course our flagships of the fleet: the Hacker Craft and ELCO.

Whether you are taking a casual cruise or joining for our first-ever season of wakesurfing, adventure awaits!

One can discover no better place to celebrate life's happy occasions than among family and friends at our Gilded Age Estate. Many lasting friendships have developed over the years for return guests who have shared life's stories and travels over a communal dinner in the Great Hall.

Imagine how special that "house party" atmosphere can be when you are the host and personally create the guest list. Consider The Point for your next milestone birthday, intimate wedding or celebratory soiree. It gives new meaning to the term "Exclusive Booking."

Under the stewardship of Caroline Welsh, our treasured art collection continues to expand. Over the past two years, Caroline has focused on enhancing the Estate's original collection while also acquiring new, notable pieces from the Hudson River School. To learn more about this project or for a sneak preview of our forthcoming book, visit our website's dedicated art section.

A special Arts & Antiques Weekend devoted to The Point's collection and other important works in the community is being planned for November. Details to follow.

Achieving Another Milestone

For the twentieth consecutive year The Point once again has been awarded the prestigious Forbes Five-Star Award! While our guests' opinions mean the world to us, this award is a special accolade that acknowledges our effort and dedication to an authentic, seamless, priceless experience.
